On September 22, of 2011 students from the Department of Occupational Safety and Health attended the Annual North Texas Occupational Safety and Health Administration and Mine Safety Health Administration (OSHA/MSHA) Regulatory Update Seminar. The seminar was sponsored by the American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA) North Texas Local Section and the US Department of Labor/OSHA. The all day conference allowed students to hear from the Fort Worth and Dallas OSHA staff concerning present activities within OSHA and their latest initiatives.

The conference was held at the Texas Star Conference Center in Euless, Texas. Those attending included graduate students Michael Claborn and Les O'Riley, undergraduate students Lorna Bates, Chelsey Cooksey, Wamsutta Brown, and sponsor Dr. Chris W. Bradshaw. The conference also gave students the opportunity to meet and network with Occupational Health and Safety professionals from government, academia, and industry.
