

Intellectual Property

Southeastern Oklahoma State University respects the intellectual property rights of the professors and students and thus must gain permission for use of such works, including content stored within the LMS for online, blended, and face-to-face courses. An author may allow the copy and/or distribution of their materials by submitting a form provided on the CIDT website giving permission to Southeastern to use the material. In such cases, any materials used will retain the name of the author.

Southeastern retains the right to view and show content, including that which is stored within the LMS, for the sake of training, or evaluation.

Users may not alter or delete content from the LMS for any course that has been taught within the previous eighteen months, as this is the time allotted for student appeals and content should be maintained in the same condition in which it existed at the end of the course.

Persons using materials in the LMS obtained from any other source must cite the source from which it was obtained, including authors, websites, images, etc.

Work-for-Hire principles will not be applied to individual works in developing materials. However, such rights will be reserved by the institution in cases of appointed collaboration, such as the work specifically commissioned by the university or produced by university committees and councils.

Works produced under a specific contract or grant agreement between the university and a governmental or other agency or organization are subject to the terms of the grant or contract for purposes of copyright. The terms of any grant or contract shall take precedence over this policy should there be a conflict between them.
