

Native Ground: Protecting and Preserving History, Culture, and Customs

Proceedings of the Tenth Native American Symposium

Southeastern Oklahoma State University

Edited by Mark B. Spencer

Native Ground: Protecting and Preserving History, Culture, and Customs

Proceedings of the Tenth Native American Symposium
November 14-15, 2013

Edited by Mark B. Spencer

Southeastern Oklahoma State University

2015

All rights reserved

Native American Symposium, Box 4121
Southeastern Oklahoma State University
Durant, Oklahoma 74701
mspencer@se.edu

ISBN # 978-0-9763852-7-1

The cover painting Friendship Dance is by Norma Howard, a Choctaw painter who lives in Stigler, Oklahoma. A selection of her works along with short biographical notices can be found at http://blueraingallery.com/artists/norma_howard/ and http://freepages.genealogy.rootsweb.ancestry.com/~choc1885/norma_howard.htm.

Table of Contents

Introduction Mark B. Spencer	5
Gambling on History: Shaping Narratives in Native Public Spaces John Bodinger de Uriarte and Melissa Biggs	7
Revival of Indian Culture through Museums: The Case of the Mille Lacs Indian Museum Caroline Laurent	24
Sacred Places: Indigenous Perspectives of Education and Place Claudia Little Axe, Rachel Lloyd, and Linda Sue Warner	32
Where Truth Telling and White Public Pedagogy Collide: Educative Barriers to Restorative Justice in Dakota Homeland Rick Lybeck	39
“The End of the Natchez”? A Genealogy of Historical, Literary and Anthropological Thought about the Natchez Indians since the Eighteenth Century Noel Edward Smyth	55
“We Have to Think of the Indian People Themselves:” Oklahoma Indians and the Congresses of October 1934 Neal M. Hampton	73
Giving Back Their Voice: The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians in the Twentieth Century: An Oral History Mattea V. Sanders	82
Nanyehi: War and Peace in Cherokee History Stanley Rice	91
Dakota/Lakota Progressive Writers: Charles Eastman, Standing Bear, and Zitkala Sa Gretchen Eick	97
Ghost Dance: Visions of Death in Contemporary Native American Cinema Jennifer L. McMahon	108

Process Ontology in Early American Pragmatism, Buddhism, and Native American Thought B. Steve Csaki	117
Transcultural Crossings: Spirituality, War, and Selfhood in Linda Hogan's People of the Whale Yonka Krasteva	124
An Act of Resistance: A Comparative Study of Indigenous Women's Narratives Debashree Dattaray	137
Acknowledgements	150