

“Where No One Else Has Gone Before”

Proceedings of the Ninth Native American Symposium

Southeastern Oklahoma State University

Edited by Mark B. Spencer

“Where No One Else Has Gone Before”

Proceedings of the Ninth Native American Symposium

November 3-4, 2011

Edited by

Mark B. Spencer

Southeastern Oklahoma State University

2012

All rights reserved

Native American Symposium, Box 4121
Southeastern Oklahoma State University
Durant, Oklahoma 74701
[m Spencer@se.edu](mailto:m Spencer@se.edu)

ISBN # 978-0-9763852-6-4

The untitled cover painting is by Norma Howard, a Choctaw painter who lives in Stigler, Oklahoma. A selection of her works along with short biographical notices can be found at http://blueraingallery.com/artists/norma\_howard/ and http://freepages.genealogy.rootsweb.com/~choc1885/norma\_howard.htm.

Table of Contents

Introduction Mark B. Spencer	5
Indian Boarding School Life, 1961– 1973 Mary Harjo	7
Louisa May Alcott’s Wild Indians: Pedagogy of Love, Politics of Empire Steve Benton	10
The Discourse of Madness and Environmental Justice in Linda Hogan’s Novel Solar Storms Yonka Krasteva	17
Maximum Morality of Thomas King’s Medicine River Marija Krivokapić Knežević	28
Two Hawks Kindles a Morning Fire and A Karankawa Jeffrey DeLotto	35
Shifting Boundaries: Violence, Representation, and the Salt Songs of the Great Basin Peoples Frederic Murray	39
What’s in a Name?: Dead Man and Transcending Stereotypes of Native Americans Jennifer L. McMahon	49
“Down the memory spilling out into the world” (Silko): The Spiral Cycle of Repetition with Variation in the Serious Comedy of Native American Traditional Mythoi as an Adaptive Bridge into the Future Joseph Faulds	57
NAGPRA as a Paradigm: The Historical Context and Meaning of the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act in 2011 Thomaira Babbitt	61
Christopher Columbus and Bartolome de Las Casas: Worshipping Christ Versus Following Jesus — Spiritual Roots of their Twin Christian Legacies Richard Mize	71
Concept of Soul among North American Indians Oksana Danchevskaya	89
Acknowledgements	97

