Would like to see the MLA bibliography return

Better advertisement of what government library services there are at our library for the public and students.

none specifically

MLA International Bibliography

None that I've noticed.

What is lacking seems to be a budget for new book purchases for the EHL department. I wrote over the summer to request some book purchases, but learned that there were no funds for that.

Print books in my field; access to ProQuest

I am very pleased with resources

more Computer Knowledge information

Physical is a thing of the past, might keep adding on your online environment.

The databases have lots of information available.

None, I have what I need, at least so far.

Budget

The wasps on the 2nd floor are a very real problem, and it would be nice to have that taken care of.

Capital IQ

Since education has become so heavily online, technology improvements need to be centered on providing electronic access to critical books, journals, documents already housed in other bigger off campus libraries.

No
I would like to see hosting events of local authors. That has been a nice feature to advertise.

none presently

More individual study/testing rooms as well as collaborative spaces (areas designed for group work equipped with collaborative technologies and tools). AR/VR equipment and software for educational and research purposes. Media Production Studios: Facilities for creating and editing multimedia content, such as videos, podcasts, and presentations.

My students are terrible writers and researchers, I would like to know exactly how much I can rely on librarians to help them without asking too much from the librarians.
I'm nobody's tech priestess so I can't answer this.

None I can think of at this time
More advance tech for students to work with on public side and improved scanners to allow the staff more versatility to digitize some of the more delicate portions of our collection to better open up accessibility to its contents and to ensure preservation.

Resource--MLA Bibliography

More workshops/information to enhance digital literacy, career exploration (with community involvement),

More one on one Environment

I've attended the presentation of what the library can offer faculty as they try to get things published and I was very impressed. Please do that presentation more often.

A bigger budget would allow me to produce some workshops but also potentially create a credit bearing course for those in more intensive research disciplines...and an improved website; that would be helpful too.

I use the online library.

current times are fine

It would be nice for the library to also be open on Saturdays if that is possible.

no

No, what they do now is great!

I just want online support and ILL support.

There have been several days over the past year that I wanted to work in the library on Saturdays.

They are open everytime I need them.

Friday, Saturday, and Sunday hours could be better for students as there is limited access to computer labs on campus. Oftentimes if students experience issues with their own computers they need access to university resources. Working students also need more time on the weekend to access library resources.

I use online services and therefore the materials are available. If I was physically located in Durant, I would use the library between 8:00-8:00

I assume you are closed on Saturday because experience shows you have no foot traffic. I'm curious about why you have traffic on Sunday.

We are set at our ideal hours of operation per usage and for availability to those who do not fit the regular 8-5 schedule.

My students find the library staff helpful.

Good to see increasing online resources over the past several years.

Overall, the library has evolved a lot to be more student friendly. I think it does a great job a our regional university.

Keep after the tird floor wasps :-)

---

The librarians are immensely helpful. They provide excellent library orientations/research instruction for my classes (both gen ed and senior-level), and students regularly report how helpful the library staff is in assisting with their research questions.

---

The library has a great group of employees that do a wonderful job.

---

I'm pleased with the administration of the library and its people. I *love* the NA section and the ground floor exhibits. Also, the website needs work. There is a button that can be selected on Wordpress to remove that huge banner at the top of the page so users won't have to scroll to access the search.

Very Professional Staff, willing to go above and beyond to help the students.

---

VERY grateful for Andy Kramer who does such an excellent job on workshops with students!

Please renew the online subscription to the MLA International Bibliography

You all are doing a great job

I'm generally happy. I think the women's restroom upstairs is atrocious and should be renovated (or closed).

---

Increased hours means increased staffing, which we do not have the budget for already. We need more budget to increase the increasing costs of database subscriptions but to also hopefully expand our access to better quality services from the information vendors, as well as allow us to improve and cultivate a vital print collection that supports the needs of the many learning communities this campus serves.
