CURRENT RESEARCH INTERESTS

Automated Recording Device Bird Surveys

Status: Completed

This undergraduate research project involves two students that will use Automated Recording Units to survey urban bird populations and analyze datasets for species richness and abundance in different habitat contexts. Plan to have students present at OOS Fall Technical Meeting.

Red Slough Avian Population Data Analysis

Status: Summer 2021 - Ongoing

This project involves statistical analysis and publication of a 21-year bird abundance and diversity dataset I acquired from the U.S.D.A. Forest Service for the Red Slough Wildlife Management Area in Southeast Oklahoma. Collaborating with University of Missouri researchers on analysis and writing a book.

Avian Migration Banding Data Analysis

Status: 2015 - Ongoing
